

Thank you for choosing StartLab as the place to nurture your dream and help you become a successful life sciences entrepreneur. We will put at your disposal all the key elements needed to transform your promising idea into reality. Of course, being Swiss, we also thrive on delivering the highest quality infrastructure and services available to you. In order to ensure that there is a perfect fit between what we offer and what you are looking for, we run a selection process to make sure that all our StartLab members are of the right quality and suitability for the StartLab environment. So, we thank you for completing this form, adding as much detail as you can at this point in your project's development.
